Awards

iClick2Learn wins National nbn Award

Helping regional Australian businesses win more of the billions of dollars government grants and tenders available is what motivates social enterprise founder of iClick2Learn Natalie Bramble.

Having worked in the grant and tender writing space for several years, it is the smaller regional Australian businesses missing out contracts and grants in providing community transport, domestic violence support, repair, maintenance and cleaning services.

Where regional businesses are missing tenders to run services in their own areas, it is often larger organisations from capital cities providing the service, and not necessarily using regional and local resources to do so.

“They are replacing or removing existing staff, bringing their own people who are not located locally, and divesting the community of the full economic advantage a locally awarded grant or tender would have provided,” she said.

As the winner of the Education category, iClick2Learn was awarded $15,000 to continue development of their online learning platform.

Develop Your Event Plan

Planning an Event?

This recorded workshop will help you create an event plan outline that will help with sponsorship, funding, grants and getting people on board.

iClick2Learn supports the community sector by providing training and development services in grants, tenders, governance, projects, programs, leadership, volunteer management and much more.

Celebrating good times

We are proud to have helped over 8000 organisations access our learning library from across Australia. In addition to the guidance our team has given through our videos and course, we've held some great expert Q&A sessions. Our team of subject matter experts have personal organisations with the following:

- Win grants and tenders
- Set up their organisation's structure
- Amend their constitution
- Have a positive outcome, navigating a potentially significant member conflict
- Increase their membership and volunteers by thinking differently about how they market these opportunities

We love hearing about positive outcomes we've helped you achieve, so please keep sharing this with us :)

Help us help you

With the world ever changing and new challenges arising all the time, we like to keep up with the community needs.
